

SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

GENERAL SOCIAL SCIENCE

2 YEARS - PRE-UNIVERSITY

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

General Social Science is a two (2) year, pre-university DEC program that prepares students for university studies in a broad range of disciplines from sociology and law, to education, psychology, languages, and more.

The General Social Science profile is intended to grant students the option to pursue higher education in broad areas of study through the acquisition of scientific learning based on the integration of knowledge and methods acquired in various social science disciplines.

WHY STUDY SOCIAL SCIENCE?

A 2015 expert panel concluded that future innovation and productivity growth will require a workforce with a balance of both STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) and non-STEM skills, such as those acquired and used in the humanities, arts and social sciences. Leadership, creativity, adaptability and entrepreneurial ability can help maximize STEM skills and allow Canadians to effectively compete within the ever-changing global marketplace.
